

YOUR ASSIGNMENT IS . . .

Month: March 2023

Assignment: Extreme Angles and Different Perspectives

Summary: The easiest way to capture an interesting photo is to shoot from a unique angle or perspective. This usually requires that you find an interesting subject and then explore the different ways you might capture the scene. Think out of the box! Maybe the camera position is so low or so high you can't see the viewfinder. No problem, just look at it after the shot. Try to capture the subject from an angle/perspective that makes your view special.

References: Search Google images for "extreme angle photos" or get more specific in your search with "high angle" or "low angle photos." You might also want to consider focus stacking your image if you shoot an extreme low angle landscape image. Here is a reference:
